

SPECIAL CASES OF MONTH SEPTEMBER

ORAL AND MAXILLOFACIAL SURGERY

EXODONTIA- 289

MINOR SURGERIES -199

MAJOR SURGERIES-03

CASE-1

OPD NO.- 2J26-47129 Age-16/F

Patient was reported to the department of oral and maxillofacial surgery by department of orthodontics regarding the protrusion of upper left lateral incisor .

HOP-1-

patient was undergoing orthodontic treatment since 2 years and an attempt has been made to bring the impacted left canine into the arch but it start impinging into the root of left upper lateral incisor and making it protrusive. Then they referred the patient for surgical extraction of left upper impacted canine.

INTRAOPERATIVE FINDINGS

Triangular flap is raised , bone cutting was done and tooth was removed. Suturing was done.

CASE-2

OPD NO.- 2S26-26466. Age-42/F

Patient reported to the department of oral and maxillofacial surgery with pain in the right upper back tooth region.

Department of endodontics referred to the department of oral and maxillofacial surgery. Patient was explained about complications related to sinus .

On clinical examination-

Distal caries was seen with respect to 17

On radiographic examination-

Malformed upper right 3rd molar was seen which was occlusally carious.

INTRAOPERATIVELY-

Tooth was surgically removed and suturing was done.

CASE-3

OPD NO.- 2S26-26657. Age-34/F

Patient reported to the department of oral and maxillofacial surgery in Luxmi bai institute of dental sciences and hospital with pain in the left lower back tooth region since 10 days.

ON CLINICAL EXAMINATION-

Left lower 3rd molar was found to be carious which was then planned for surgical extraction.

ON RADIOGRAPHIC EXAMINATION-

Roots are found to be bulky and inferior alveolar canal was seen crossing root apices.

INTRAOPERATIVE FINDINGS-

Flap was raised , bone cutting was done and tooth was luxated and removed. Suturing was done.

